1. Seniors Molly Roeder, Kaitlynn Riba, Emma Griesinger, Mary Helms, and Emma Kearns learning a self introduction that a group of sisters taught St. Marie's third hour Dignity and Vocation class. "It was really different and fun!" the girls said.
2. In Mr. Trynieki's British and American Literature course, seniors Jack Veldman and John Cataldo read and paraphrase the book Animal Farm as partners. "This is something we normally do in his class while we're while reading" said Jack.
3. Even taking a normal Scan-Tron test in Mrs. Madison's English class has a twist. Freshman Uriel Calderon wears the jester hat that makes its annual appearance during the study of Edgar Allan Poe's The Cask of Amontillado.

WE ARE! "CLAP CLAP" MARIAN KNIGHTS!

We are a work in progress...

Here is the thing about Marian: we always find a way to be competitive and better than expected. Work is always the response to doubt here at Marian. Work is simply the culture. Look at the location of Marian High School; it was built in the city of Mishawaka. The culture of Mishawaka has always been work. A businessman came to the area and decided that this spot on the river would be a great place to build a water-powered blast furnace to smelt iron castings.

That sounds like hard work. Soon the town was thriving with working people along with the farmers and trappers and lumberjacks who were already there.

In 1963, the Diocese wanted a second high school to open in the South Bend-Mishawaka area for students on the South Side and in Elkhart. The Sisters of St. Francis of Perpetual Adoration "up the hill" gave us the land to build the school upon.

From the very first day the school opened, those original 239 students decided to make the most out of the new opportunity they had. That new culture soon developed the same old fashioned grit so prevalent here.

And here we are today, in bigger and better places than the beginning. We are still working hard. We are still striving for perfection. We are and will always be "a work in progress."

Red, White, and Marian Blue!
It was really a "knight" to remember as the football team and student body both inflicted their will against "that other Catholic school" with a 14 - 13 win in the game as well as a 5th consecutive hunger bowl title.

The "Knight" in White
Homecoming was a ball with the student body coming out in full force to show their spirit for the football game and first ever homecoming dance following the game.

We're just getting started...

Speeding past car by car, freshman Thomas Burke (below) spends his free time competing at the South Bend Motor Speedway. 2018 marked his eleventh year racing.

Ex[illegible] their performance in the Southold Town Theater's The Nutcracker, Alyssa Webb (9), Theresa Thomas (10), and Michael Lausch (9) give a big thumbs up from backstage. They have been dancing for years now and still love the rush of performing. "It's my favorite part, just being able to transport people from their everyday lives; it's amazing!" exclaimed Theresa, thinking back on her eleven years of dancing.

Bump! Set! Spike! Freshman Genevieve South smiles wide with her volleyball team mates. She has played with Dunes Volleyball for three years and still loves it. "I want to play all year long instead of just one season," she replied, thinking on why she does not play for Marian.

Brandon Mireles (right) can be found boxing when he is not in school. "I was introduced to boxing by a friend, but the competitiveness of it all made me want to stick with it."

Freshman Emily Tinervia (far right) models a dress she sewed for the 4-H Fair when she was in fifth grade. Emily also did construction in the fair. "I love the fabrics and all of the colors; I can create anything!"

Flying Into The Future

Maria Holderbaum

A typical high schooler's day entails solving a math problem or two, conjugating a sentence, learning about another country's history, and for seniors, learning the importance of supply and demand. Usually once the day of learning is over, typical high schoolers spend their free time involved in a sport, school, or work. Senior Maria Holderbaum spends some of her free time learning how to take off and land a plane.

Maria plans on going into aviation this fall in college. In order for her to prepare for her college courses, Maria needed to take basic flying lessons. Being a pilot is more difficult than many jobs and entails more training than just operating a car. Maria commented, "It's one of those careers where you will never know everything." As a matter of fact, she didn't always have the desire to become a pilot.

One day Maria and her uncle were having a conversation about what she should do as a career. Her uncle said jokingly, "You should be a pilot." However, that joking suggestion got Maria interested in aviation. "I like going into something that I know nothing about."

She started to take flying lessons in January at the Goshen Airport. She is being instructed by an ER doctor that knows how to fly a personal aircraft who is named Andre. " I like everything that is involved in taking aviation lessons."

Maria practices her flying with a Sessna 152 that was built in 1978. Even though the plane fairly old, planes are well kept and can last a long time with the proper care.

In the picture to the right, Maria is with her mother in front of a plane on the tarmack, thought that is not the one she flies. "Its not uncommon for old planes to be flown, as long as they are still functional." Maria is looking forward to what college has in store for her and one day being able to fly to Europe.

Exploration of Cosmetology

The Career Adventure of Meilin Gray

Most of the morning is a blur of books and lectures and crowded hallways. But after 11:30, it is a flurry of scissors, suds, and dreams coming true. When Meilin Gray walks out the doors at Marian, she adventures out into the future. Mei spends half of her day at Vogue Beauty College learning about not only how to do hair and makeup but also chemistry, anatomy, dermatology, and even more importantly time management, and professionalism. "I gain not just information but confidence," she remarks when she thinks about training for her cosmetology license.

"It's great to interact with people who appreciate similar things that you do."

Her inspiration actually comes from her aunt and another family friend who are cosmetologists. They inspired her at a young age. In fact, when her art teacher, Mrs. Gunty, found out Mei cut her own hair, even she suggested that Mei consider that career. Though she started out exploring and practicing her technique on a mannequin, after only a few months, Mei began working on real clients. "I was excited!" There is nothing like being able to do the very thing you want.

"I love everything about attending these classes! I finally found a skill that I am good at." And it is even more motivating that she will be able to get her Cosmetology license within the next year or so

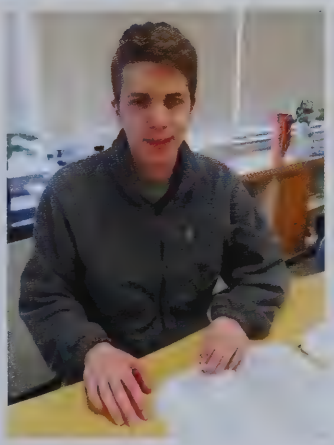
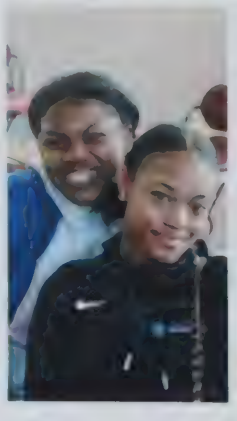
Ben Macheca

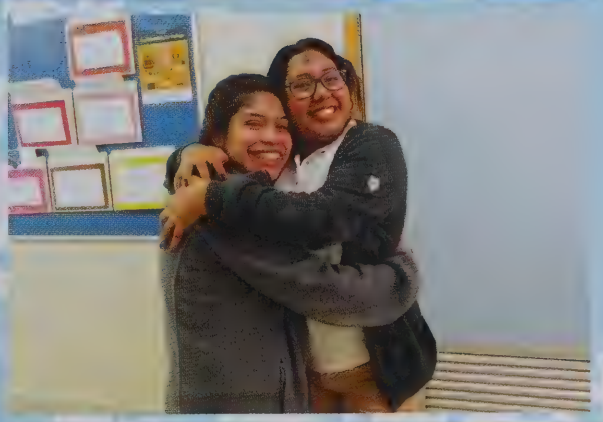
2017 Marian graduate still helps out his Alma Mater an Assistant Staff Member



Ben is a bit shy, but when you get to know him, he is very sweet and loves his Marian Family. He begins his day at Marian at 11 in the morning to work in the cafeteria. His favorite thing to do is help make lunch for the students. Ben currently takes Ceramics class, Nutrition and Wellness, and one Religion class. He says he enjoys still being able to come to school and make new friends as well as continue all of his old friendships.

student life & Faith





Service Day

Two Peas in a Pod

While singing at Hubbard Hills Retirement Community for Service Day, senior Aaron Smith (above) caught sight of one of the retirees gleefully dancing and singing along with choir. When the choir, finished Aaron made a beeline to the peppy man. The two immediately bonded while the man, Harold, spoke of his days in high school choir.

Harold reminded Aaron of his own grandparents: funny, opinionated, and inspiring. According to Aaron, Harold's personality and mindset is everything that someone would want to grow up to have. And, as for getting to know new people, Aaron hopes that everyone would get out and meet different people. Harold and Aaron bonded in a special way and both greatly enjoyed meeting each other.

What is Service Day?

Service day, on Oct. 18, was a chance for Marian students to volunteer around their community for the school day. Students volunteered doing everything from cleaning up horse manure at Reins for Life to pouring mulch at the South Bend Century Center. Community service helps strengthen student's spirituality, gets young adults involved in their world, and brings the Marian classes together as a family.

Senior Aaron Smith and retiree, Harold, bond at Hubbard Hills Retirement Community while discussing Harold's time in high school. "I just really like seeing the reaction on [the retirees'] faces while we were singing. They seemed blown away," stated Aaron.

Sophmore Reyna Cruz works hard cleaning up tree limbs at the St. Joe County Park. By picking up limbs and trash in our local community it promotes stewardship and a love for our world.

Seniors Teresa Ramirez and Alyssa Grzesiowski hang out with their peers and residents at a local nursing home. The girls are busy chatting with one of the ladies and painting her nails.

Juniors Alia Olan and Mya Smith hold freshly picked flowers from neighborhood farm. The students were busy working on building a shed, picking food from a field, and gardening.

Marian's choir beautifully sings spiritual Christian songs to the people staying at Hubbard Hills Retirement Community. Afterwards, the students enjoyed socializing with the impressed retirees.

Class Retreats

What's a Retreat?

The class retreats are an opportunity to build and strengthen friendships and promote understanding between students and teachers. It is also a fun time to listen to songs, play a couple games, and learn some new things. It helps students to better focus on themselves, their spirituality, their future, and their relationships with each other and God. Also, it is a great time for team building and group discussion.

3.Having lots of fun at the Freashmen Retreat, Campus Ministry Leader Audrey Carr (senior) gets ready for some fun games.
4.While participating in the Freshmen Retreat, Campus Ministstry Leader Victor Gomez (junior) gives a special speech to the new faces of Marian.
5.During the Freshmen Retreat, the incoming freshmen share a couple facts about each other to get to know one another better.
6."The retreat was a way for us to come together as a family. Getting to meet new people was amazing. I realized so much after the talks I heard." -Mercedes Cuevas 9
7."The retreat left a good impact on me. I felt loved and welcomed as a Knight. It helped me see the world in a different way and how we could change it." -Mikayla Hemingway 9
8.Sister Marie talks to the seniors about memories, and wants to know about the students favorite memories.
9.Senior Atanasio Sete prays during adoration.

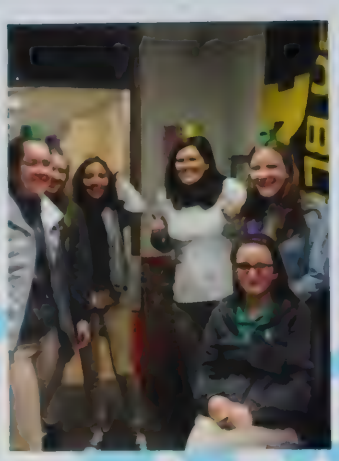
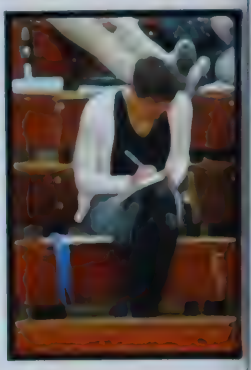
NEVER A DULL MOMENT

Mrs. Snyder's office is a hub of activity all day as the busy school's campus ministry program and coordinator plays a significant role in the spiritual encouragement opportunities at school. It's also a great place to hang out. Besides, what's cooler than mardi Gras hats!??



Students regularly meet in Campus Ministry for lunch, snacks, and meetings to talk and spend time in a positive environment

PENANCE



WE ARE CALLED TO SERVE ONE ANOTHER

Marian's Campus Ministry, led by Miss Lea Snyder, is an important force at Marian. From staffing masses with altar servers and ushers to coordinating and running class retreats, the club is always busy. More than anything, the members try to be excellent followers of Christ and model that for their fellow students. Miss Snyder, new to Marian this year, has been willing, fun energetic, and inspiring in her mission of living Christ to the fullness of our days.

Student kneel deeply in prayer before the Blessed Sacrement as they prepare for reconciliation. Many priests from local parishes come so that students can pray with those who they know or with someone totally new.

Bishop's VISIT

Every time Bishop Kevin Rhodes comes to school, we know we're in for a treat. Not only is Mass changed up with much more to watch, but the Bishop always gives us a nice, long homily. He always asks Mr. Kirzeder if he can have some more time. The cheers from the student-congregation always answer that question for him. The Bishop's visit this spring was especially exciting as we got to watch two of our classmates join the Catholic Church!

Above: The Campus Ministry members meet in the chapel to snap a quick picture. Their comfort in this space, full of God's presence, is evident in their joyful expressions.

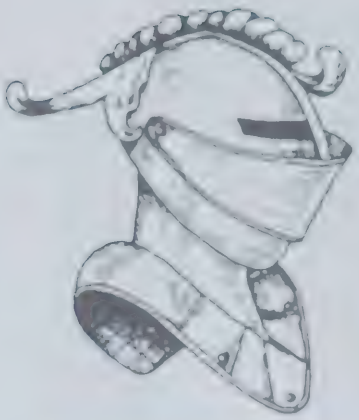
Middle: Mr. Dlugosz organizes people on the bleachers in preparation for the start of retreat.

1. Sophomore Jillian Baker is received into the Catholic Church during Ash Wednesday All School Mass.
2. Bishop Rhodes anoints sophomore Aubreigh Morgan with chrism.
3. Junior Luini Sete receives ashes from the bishop.
4. Mr. Kirzeder announces the Valedictorian, Alyssa Grzesiowski, and Salutatorian, Kate Henry, after mass on March 13.



SPIRIT NIGHT!

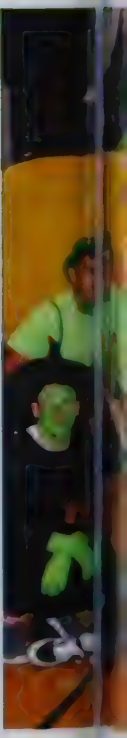
Go Team Blue! Go Team White!

On Saturday, February 24, Marian hosted its very first Spirit Night. Spirit Night was headed off by many members of the faculty and staff including Miss Brusky, Mrs. Dziemitko, Mrs. Kemper, Miss Wytrwas, and many others. Past that, all of the planning was led by the students involved.

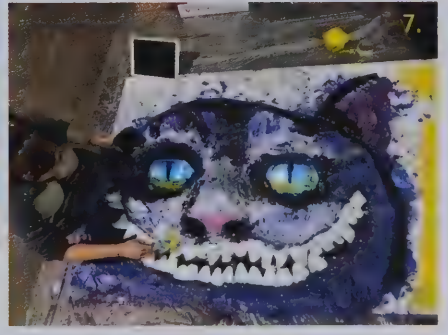
After having a trip to visit Mrs. Kemper's old high school in Pennsylvania (well-known for its version of Spirit Night) for inspiration, everyone knew what to do to create an evening jam packed with activities including sports, art, games, and dancing. This event took a lot of time, planning, and practice. In fact, the planning started last school year, and the actual work started shortly after this year began.

Spirit Night contestants were grouped into two teams by their last names. Each activity and facet of the night had specific student leaders who volunteered their time and talent to make sure each piece was a success. It also allowed students to show off talents not often noted in traditional sports or extracurriculars.

All in all, the night was a great success, and the planning has already begun for the 2nd annual Spirit Night! Captains were named, and the theme was selected. We hope to keep this tradition alive as a fun, spirited way to break up the long winter season and build community within our school. It's just another one of our works in progress!



1. Raising the flag, a blue team, Molly Keenan, gets hyped with teammates Joseph Kloska and Kelly Jeffers right before the start of this amazing night!
2. Many members of the blue team dressed as Minions perform a choreographed dance they worked extremely hard on.
3. The white team waits anxiously as they are prepare to let loose against the blue team.
4. The Spirit Night trophy was handed over to the white team. Congratulations to the white team's captains Elan Williams and Dominik Rafinski for all their hard work throughout the summer and school year. It all paid off!
5. The white team's Wizard of Oz theme had what it took to win the the night. The costumes and make-up are worthy of such a close-up.
6. Everyone waits for the balloons to drop to wrap up an entertaining evening full of talent, dedication, and most of all, SPIRIT!
7. Behind the scenes, junior Apisara Sunatra creates one of the astounding floor-to-ceiling murals to be assembled in the gym.



Arsenic And Old Lace

In this year's fall play, our very own Marian students get into a slew of mischief with mysterious dead bodies, creepy family members, senile uncles, and eccentric old aunts. The main character Mortimer Brewster (Matthew Mielke) is preparing to marry the girl next door and love of his life Elaine Harper (Grace Thomas) on Halloween only to return home to find a dead body under a window seat and that his old aunts are running a unique business of poisoning old men with arsenic to help them pass away.

Just when things couldn't possibly get any worse, Mortimer's long lost brother Jonathan Brewster (Nick Kloska) returns with a companion and assistant Dr. Einstein (Grant Matthys) and demands to stay the night in the family house to cover up some of his own mischiefs. Amidst all of this, Mortimer must sort out the new revelations of his twisted family and protect his fiancé from all the madness.

Spring Musical "Anything Goes"

In Marian's Spring Musical "Anything Goes," main character Billy Crocker (Nick Kloska) boards the S.S. American with singer/evangelist friend Reno Sweeney (Grace Thomas) to pursue the love of his life Hope (Evie Cressy) who is engaged to another, Lord Evelyn Oakleigh (Graham Harding). In this hilarious, twisted, romantic comedy, the cast navigates love, trust, and being true to yourself. Out at sea, we find that just about "Anything Goes!"

In this scene to the right, Hope and Lord Evelyn Oakleigh are aboard the S.S. American as a newly engaged couple and are being questioned by reporters (Renee Stallman and Autumn Leap).

...best friends Billy Crocker and Reno Sweeney have some fun with ...es Billy and playfully pats his head. Billy brushes Reno off ... teasing.

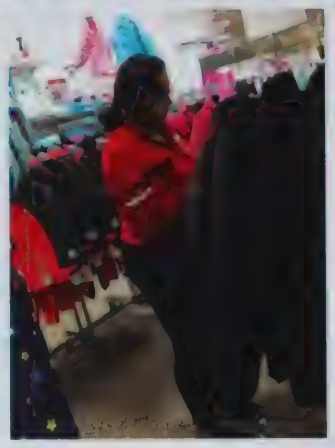
Clock In, Cash Out

Hard Work Pays Off

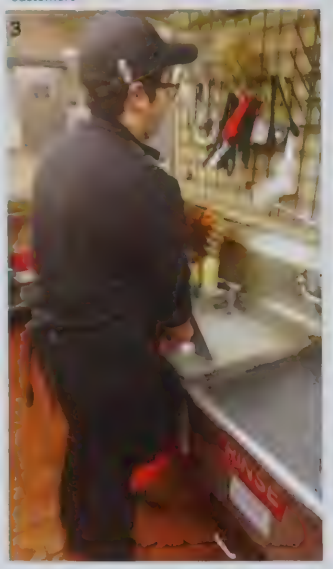
Why Do You Work?

Work: That annoying time between school and naps.

Sometimes it may seem as if our jobs are just there to bark out orders, tell us how long to work, and where to work. It gets really annoying having to wake up early in the morning to the do the same thing everyday! Let's not forget about those rude customers, but why do we do it? A survey on Marian students and their jobs says that they do it for the money. It's always easier to have extra cash on you and it kind of gives you a sense of "freedom." Others said they do it to help their parents. Whether they're doing it to buy groceries or pay a bill, they know their little contribution goes a long way. Some students work to start saving up for college. College can get really expensive, so it's wise to save up. Makaila Ranges, a senior, says she loves working at The Local Cup, northwest side of South Bend. She like many others works to save up for college. "The best part of my job is being able to welcome new people to The Local Cup because they are always astonished by the project...The Local Cup has a pay-it-forward model. To be honest, I am going to miss this place a lot when I leave for college. It is home. It is where I get to be a mediator between those in my community." All in a day's work.

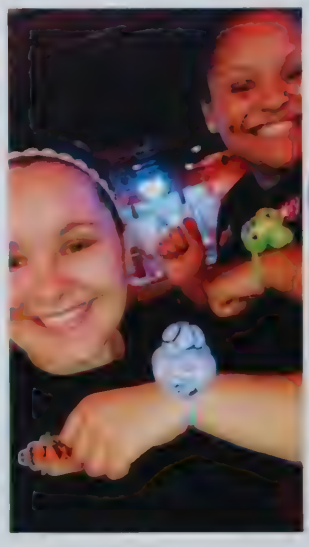


Diana Dominguez, senior, urgently scans through the coats section for a replacement. As Christmas nears, work seems to have no end for dedicated workers like Diana. "We all work as a team, and we all try our best to satisfy the customers."



After a hectic day at work, Vicente Navarrete, a junior, ends the day by rinsing a few dishes. Even though it was his first day at Burger King, it didn't stop the hungry customers from rolling in. "Nothing comes easy."

Makaila Ranges, senior class president, casually prepares a warm cup of coffee before the Christmas Carols begin. The chocolaty aroma of coffee lead customers right into The Local Cup to enjoy a flavorful cup of coffee before the Marian Choir began their performance.



Alexsandra Bowerman, senior, and a co-worker pose for a quick selfie. A new job at Texas Roadhouse plus a new mindset equals bigger goals. "I love how everyone is treated like family."

#WorkingOr HardlyWorking

Gabriella Christie, senior, and co-workers at their pj meeting. Who said work can't be fun? Texas Roadhouse workers along with Gabbie prepared a pj meeting to sell gift cards. "Couldn't have asked for a better job!"

what do you do after school?

50% Of Marian students found their job through a friend or family member

33% Of Marian students work for "money"

8% Of Marian students get paid $8 per hour

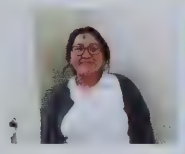
68% Of Marian students work

57% Of Marian students like their job

32% Of Marian students do not work

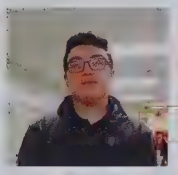
Q & A

How do you deal with rude customers?



Diana Dominguez, Senior

I try to get them what they want. If that doesn't work, I call the manager.



Vicente Navarrete, Junior

I call the manager. I don't have time to deal with them.

Makaila Ranges, Senior

I speak to them in a nice yet stern voice; they usually respond kindly.

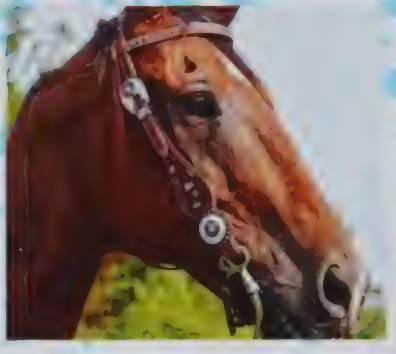
Alexsandra Bowerman, Senior

I just smile and try to accommodate them and then get the manager if it cannot be resolved.

Sophomore Alexis Chrobot sits atop her horse Poco last year. She has been taking care of horses in a local stable for the past few years. Poco was a surprise gift from her parents. One of Alexis's favorite quotes is by Charles M. Russel (an Old West artist): "You can see what man made from the seat of an automobile, but the best way to see what God made is from the back of a horse."

This playful German shepherd, Chase, has been with Junior, Kyle Morton, for three years. One year ago, Chase chewed a hole the size of a basketball in the couch, and it was about the worst thing he has done. According to Kyle, if Chase were a person, he would be a "goof ball."

Sophomore Brianna Wasoski is the owner of 2 horses, Doc and Nikki. Her bay horse, Doc, is very distantly related to the famous race horse from the early 1920's, Man O' War. The twenty two year old Doc was born on a race farm in Texas. He is "like a crabby old man, but he loves children."



Brianna's twenty two year old buckskin horse, Nikki, loves contesting sports, like barrel racing. Needing plenty of attention, Nikki was was sold to Brianna and her family about two years ago. She is "pretty and cuddly, she will let you hug her and won't get annoyed," says Brianna.

Too Dog Gone Cute

Marian's Marvelous Pets

This is Ms. Niespo's standard poodle, Monsieur Fluffypants during the summer of 2017. The two of them like to play fetch and take naps on the couch together. "He's my best buddy, and he rides with me in my Jeep everywhere I go!" says Niespo.

Sophomore Amitza Rodriguez has an eight year old fluffy ball of sass cat named Micho. For a whole week, Amitza and her family thought Micho was a girl until they took him to the vet and got it all straightened out. When asked how she felt about her cat being in the yearbook, Amitza exclaimed, "My baby! He's going to be famous!"

Top Eight pets

Who's more liked- cats or dogs? At Marian it's dogs. Cool cat people may disagree, but nevertheless, all fury friends are loved the same.

Senior Cheyenne Collins loves her two year old dog, Luna. She is an Aussie-Doodle named Luna because "she is black and white like the night and the moon," says Cheyenne. She knows how to shake and one year, she ate Cheyenne's dress shoes two days before Prom.

Annual Fine Arts Festival

Mrs. Gunty organizes this amazing presentation of creativity and talent each spring. Students from all grades and all art styles (vocal, instrumental, 3D, photo, painting, drawing, etc.) display their portfolios and proudest pieces for the whole community. It keeps our great art from being just a grade in the gradebook and rather something to be enjoyed.

Snow Day

What are the procedures to figuring out the when to close school because of cold/snow days?

- "When the wind chill is under 20°F"
- "Get input from other schools"
- "I get alerts on my phone from different cities or Mishawaka specifically for the road conditions to know if it safe."
- "Determines the amount of snow and whether to cancel because of snow."

-All answers are credited to Mr. Kirzeder

Spring is the season when plants begin to sprout but not during school hours on April 16 right outside the school doors. "Around 2 o'clock, I went outside with the camera with such excitement because I love the snow, and to see it during spring makes me happy," rejoiced junior David Bautista-Amick.

During Spring Break, April 14th, Freshman Brooke Thornburg (right) and her friend Faith Scherpereel (left) went to Notre Dame's Compton Ice Arena. It was her first skate of the season. "I fell a lot," said Brooke.

WHAT IS YOUR FAVORITE THING ABOUT WINTER?

This graph shows what students like best about winter.

Members of the swim team, juniors Cody Mower, Gabriella Gallegos, Narasuwat Desmarais, Samuel Kramer, Gracie Molnar, and seniors Adam Evans, Eric Diaz, and Allison Thorton went to out to eat breakfast after 5 am practice because school was canceled due to bad winter weather. Junior Bill Singer said that his "favorite dish has to be the pancakes."

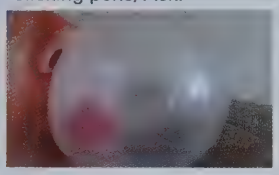
Editor's Column

P.S. Appreciate the snow flurries that fall on the ground, because it might not be here much longer. We will not have four seasons for we are going through a extreme crisis of global warming, and we are losing the ice caps meaning we could lose all the undiscovered species or animals that thrive in the cold. The reason for the rise in heat and decrease in cold is because the ozone layer is being destroyed by humans and the pollution of vehicles. Not enough people are helping by recycling or making the earth a greener place. God did not say that we are rulers of the earth, but rather we are stewards. We can make a difference to help the animals in danger of extinction and for the humanity of the this world.

Top Pet Peeves

Leaving lockers open is a common Pet Peeve.

Clicking pens, Ack!



Blowing bubbles and popping them? No thanks.

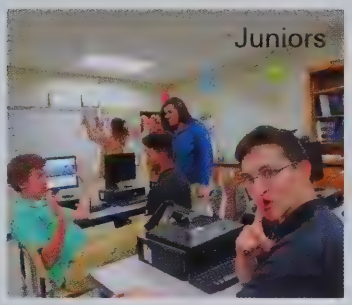
What grinds your gears?

"Something that a particular person finds especially annoying" is the dictionary's definition of pet peeves. We all have those certain habits that just drive others crazy. As it turns out, Marian has a lot of them.

Top Peeves for 4 years

Congregating in giant groups in the middle of the hallway is not way to make friends with upperclassmen.

Trying to concentrate? Not while someone is making tapping noises with her foot.



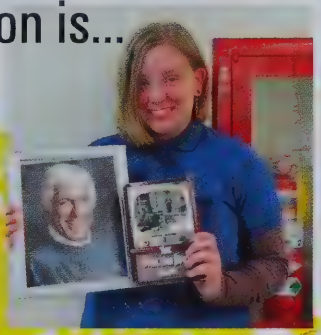
It is so rude when someone is talking while the teacher is explaining an assignment!

Bad parking is always unappreciated. Especially like on Senior Prank Day!

My Weird Obsession is...

While everyone enjoys playing with a bouncy ball now and then, no one actually has a collection, right? Wrong! Brooke Thornburg has a bouncy ball collection consisting of over 75 balls; they range from your average bouncy ball to mini soccer balls and even eyeballs. So, the next time a kid asks you for a bouncy ball, direct him to Brooke!

Brooke Thornburg, 09



Dorothy "Dottie" Hicks' weird obsession is the Dick Van Dyke Show. Her obsession is complete with all five season of her favorite show on DVD. When she was younger, she sent a letter to him. Not expecting a reply, she was pleasantly surprised to come home to an autographed picture of him that had arrived in the mail.

Dorothy "Dottie" Hicks, 10

One of the major fads of 2017 was definitely Pokemon Go. This virtual reality game puts you in the world of Pokemon and allows you to actually catch them. We all had our fun with it for a while, but Cody Mowers is still having his fun! He always wears his Gotcha wristband. He is a huge fan of all things Pokemon Go!

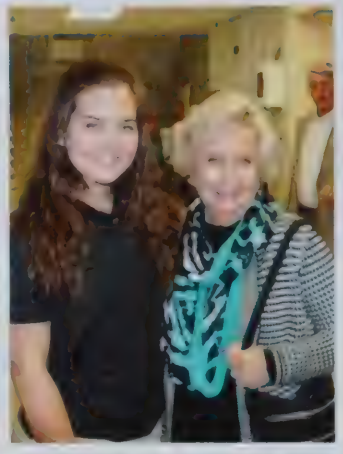
Cody Mowers, 11

Taking a souvenir from a country or state you visit is normal, but what about always taking a souvenir from anywhere you go. Jasmine Bontrager collects magnets from all the places she goes! Her collection ranges from common Florida magnets to guest speakers at Marian. She even has magnets from South Bend gas stations!

Jasmine Bontrager, 12

Weird Obsessions

"Weird obsessions" are things that are considered weird or different to like or do. Most people don't like math or when your movie is lagging, but some people actually do like these weird things. Unbelievable, right? Well, here's a list of some of Marian's weirdest enjoyments that go against common beliefs.



25th JUBILEE

Sister Marie celebrates 25 years of religious life as a Sister of Saint Francis of Perpetual Adoration.

Many of Sister Marie's sisters came to Marian for Mass in her honor and to celebrate with her and her students in her classroom on this joyous occasion.

BE PREPARED

Grandparents Day

A very special holy relic made a pilgrimage to Mishawaka and actually stopped at Marian for students, faculty, and staff to learn about a pray before. A vile of St. John Paul II's blood was saved and entrusted to the sisters of the Servants of the Pierced Hearts of Jesus and Mary. We were able to place our hands over the relic and receive a prayer card touched to the relic as well as a personal prayer said for us individually by a sister there.

Light of Learning Award

The students spoke, and the principal listened. Miss Randall, who teaches computers, coding, and physics, was chosen as the winner of the Light of Learning award. It was announced on Grandparents Day in front of a large crowd. She then attended a luncheon celebrating her success.

the JOY of TEACHING

Mrs. Ganser and Mrs. Dyer were the lucky winners of The Bishop D'Arcy Joy of Teaching Grant awarded to teachers to travel and learn about things they enjoy. Last year's winners, Mrs. Madison and Ms. Niespodziany, traveled to Greece to learn more about Ancient Greek Mythology. Mrs. Ganser and Mrs. Dyer will surely go somewhere amazing as well.

The solar eclipse on August 21 was an amazing sight and the first of its kind since the 1970s! Students were let out of science classes throughout the day to look at the celestial phenomenon. At the end of the day, everyone had the chance to check out the remainder of the eclipse on their ways home.

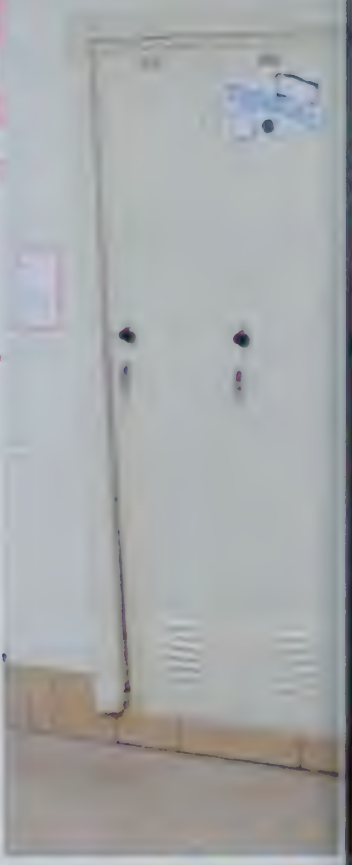
Total Eclipse of the SUN!

Decorative vs. Non-decorative

Junior, Emma DeHart stands in front of her festive locker full of decorations. Emma is a varsity cheerleader for the football and basketball team. One thing I asked her about her locker being full of decorations was "what does it mean as a student to be selected as one of the most decorative lockers?" She replied with "Its a honor."

Senior, Aaron Smith stands in front of his undecorated locker. Aaron is a very charismatic and outgoing guy and it is very shocking knowing that he does not have anything at all on his locker! I went in and asked him "how does it feel to have no decorations on your locker? Aaron went on to say "It makes me feel like I stand out, because everyone has decorations and then you see mine and... Nothing!"

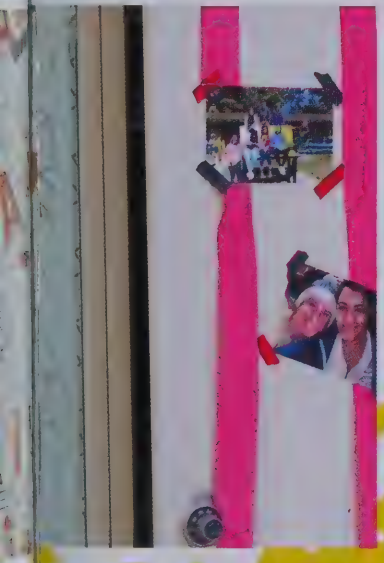
The images below that have the festive lockers are all unique in different ways. The three photos below are all taken in the Junior hallway. What is unique about them is that they all consist of different colors, clubs, sports, organizations, and etc. The students that go to Marian high school are very diverse with the clubs or sports they are involved in. In which they are rewarded with locker decorations



Rose's Decked-Out Locker

Marian senior hallway, from locker to locker senior, Rose Jacobs locker caught our eye. Her locker from up to down is very creative and is festive! Cheerleaders are so unique!

"Creativity involves breaking out of established patterns in order to look at things in a different way."
- Edward De Bono

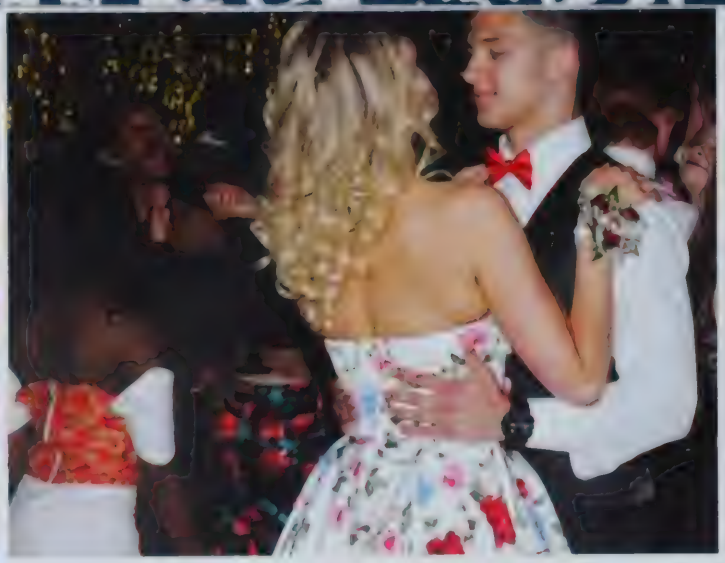


Decked-Out

Senior hallway is full of decorations on some individual lockers. Each locker has a different decoration which makes it very unique. Every single person that roams the hallways of Marian High School is unique in some sort of way with the various decorations from each locker. As a student, locker decorations are something we need to be identified with. As seasons go by, there are more and more decorations added on each locker. There are some students who have millions of decorations on their lockers. Locker decorations characterize the person of who we are as a student/athlete.

However, that doesn't mean students without locker decorations are "boring." We are all unique in our own ways as students, and locker decorations do not determine if we are cool or not. The students who do not have locker decorations might not want to be identified or participate in extracurricular activities outside of school. You have to dig deep and find their real uniqueness as a student.

This is remarkable because we know who everybody is as a student. Everybody at Marian High School gets to be known because we are family.



Heaven on Earth

Warm weather, sunny skies, and a perfect night for dancing. Prom on Saturday, May 5 was truly Heaven on Earth. Our menu was a selection of tapas including meatballs, chicken kabobs, fresh fruits and veggies, bruschetta, mini baked potatoes, and a chocolate fountain for dessert. We danced, laughed, cried, and will never forget this beautiful night together.

1. Showing off her remarkable art skills, Junior Apisara Sunantra painted the faces of faculty and staff members on pumpkins. This was done during a meeting on October 25 in celebration of Halloween. "Those art skills are crazy good," complimented freshman Arianna Dowdy

2. Organizing and helping out at Marian's annual Santa's Workshop, some faculty, staff, and other volunteers are joyful to be helping out those with less during the Christmas season.

3. On April 17, 2018, the art club members traveled to the Art Institute of Chicago. Freshman Lily Taylor said her favorite part of the trip was "just getting to look at all the amazing pieces of art, especially the photos."

5. Smiling and laughing, Senior Maya Davis talks lighthearedly with a young girl at the Center for the Homeless while painting her face. Marian's Santa's Workshop is a great opportunity for students to show off their art skills, socialize with peers, and reach out to help the community.

6. A few club members, Armel Irankunda, Lydia Fell, Elizabeth Moryl, Hannah Toepp, and Emily Tinervia pose with Mrs. Gunty.

7. While putting their creative art skills to work, art club members and volunteers make beaded jewelry during Santa's Workshop at the Center for the Homeless.

8. Sophomore Neema Kwabena and Senior Juliana Meyer work diligently together to paint furniture for the Lucky Night Auction.

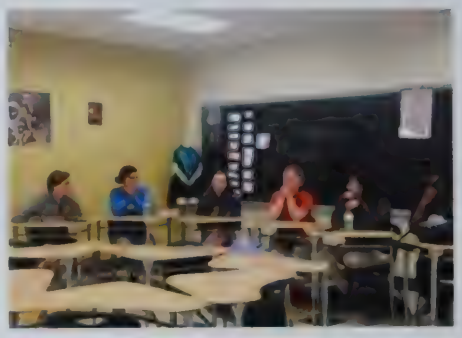
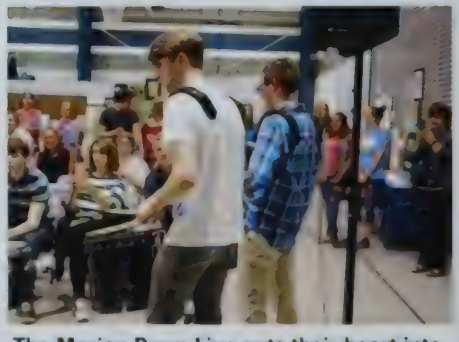
Letting their imaginations run wild, members of the drama club participate in a unique improv game. They had erupted into laughter after each 30 second verbal addition to the ongoing story.



Drum Line

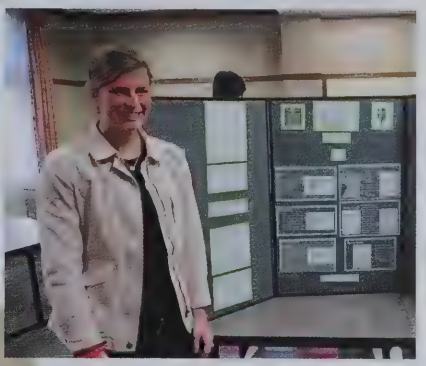
Members of the bass line, Brandon Mireles, Georges Domont, Adam Evans, Seth Becker, and snare drummer Benjamin Balderas rehearse during 9th hour class. Playing in the bass line is hard since each drum is a different size creating a different sound than the others. Counting your beats and rests is essential!

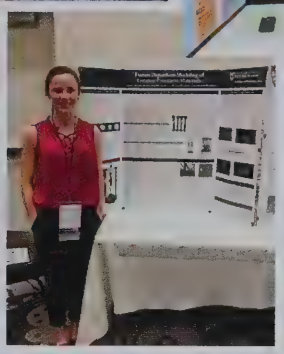


The Marian Drum Line puts their heart into an epic performance at the Annual Spring Fine Arts Festival.

Science Research

This is not your typical high school science class.





Marian's Advanced Research Course allows students to work cooperatively with local professors on college and university campuses, investigating real-world problems through scientific study. Marian annually partners with the University of Notre Dame's QuarkNet Laboratory where students and professors conduct research for CERN's Large Hadron Collider.

Environmental Club

In the fall of 2017, the Environmental Club built a green house not only for the club but for the entirety of the science department to utilize. It took 2-3 weeks in October to build with the help of 2-3 students involved in the club. They raised funds for this project through the water bottle sale during the 2016-2017 school year.

Mr. Mullins, the club's proctor, got some funds from the science department to help pay for the needed materials as well as receiving an Audubon grant.They are hoping to use the compost from the greenhouse in their future butterfly garden.

When Delaney Thomas and Carlondrea Petty were asked what the best part in building the green house was, they responded "Renovating the nature area" and "Being outside in nature."

Mock Trial

Stop! It's Gavel Time!

Astounding the judges with their wits and pantsuits, the Marian Mock Trial Team interrogates their way to victory. They took third place in Regionals, advancing to the State Competition in Indianapolis. Though the team did not win at State, the lawyers and witnesses took the cake when it came to individual awards. At the Regional level, outstanding attorney awards were given to sophomore Kelly Skwarcan, who spectacularly won two, and junior Victor Gomez. Freshman Brooke Thornburg won an outstanding witness award at this level as well. Kelly Skwarcan scored another outstanding attorney award at state, and Brooke Thornburg and sophomore Nathan Pingel both won outstanding witness awards.

The varsity quiz bowl team smiles proudly, despite a close tournament loss. They had a fantastic season and were glad to have had a fun time with it. The varsity team closed the season with a 3-4 record and the junior varsity ended with a 6-1 record.

Euchre Club

Euchre Club members competitively strategize which card to play next. On each Wednesday of the year, players could just walk into Mr. Davis's classroom and join a game. The club was open to everyone and was noncommittal. Winning or losing, players had a fun time being able to play and laugh with friends.

French Focus

Neema Kwangu

Studying French is a pretty natural thing for Neema. It is her third language after her native Swahili and English. She says French is actually quite a bit like Swahili and it's easy because "the conjugations and rules are similar." Neema ran for V.P. of the club, but lost since many underclassmen don't know her as she's already in upper level French classes.

Right. The members of the Knights for Life club travel to Washing DC every winter to participate in the March for Life. Always an exciting and uplifting trip, this opportunity allows Marian students to interact with other Catholics young and old on this critical topic.

Below. This year, the club got a new moderator, Mrs. Margy Kloska. She was able to enjoy the march with her sons, Joseph (sophomore) and Nicholas (senior), spending quality time with family and friends in support of this important cause.

Bottom. Seniors Kelly Jeffers, Kate Henry, and Milah Young leap for a picture celebrating their trip and passion for the march.

Above. Senior Kelly Jeffers represents today's generation of Pro-Life advocates. She has spent much of the last few years advocating for humanity in various ways including the Catholic mission all the way to disaster relief. We can be sure to expect that Kelly will continue on this philanthropic path throughout her life.
Right. Crowding the streets of the capital, Marian students tirelessly clamor for change and life despite the cold air. Spirits were high the whole trip. At least the sun was out!

What is JROTC?

It is not just a group of people, but a brotherhood. The cadets in JROTC have been through many tests and exams and have passed both physical and character exams. JROTC came into being in 1916 with the National Deffense Act. The goal of JROTC is to make better citizens. There are things that the JROTC unit does and does not do anymore. Being in JROTC, you learn to become a better citizen and how to better your leadership skills so that in the future, you can lead others to do the right thing and to inspire others to be better citizens as well.

This IBA (interceptor body armor) belongs to Cadet Brendan Bruneel, a junior. This item was introduced in to the JROTC program this year here at Marian for weight training and other activities.

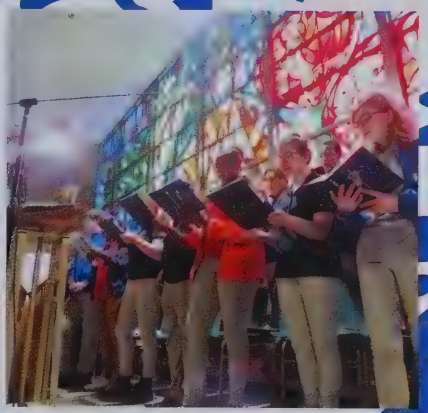
In Memoriam



Mrs. Nancy Piekarski

May 17, 1951 - May 8, 2018

The Marian family came together and prayed with fervor for our friend's comfort. Mrs. Piekarski's helpfulness and kindness will be missed in the Bookstore. "She is one of the few people at Marian who has seen me live out my childhood that I barely remember. This knowledge is what I hold dear about her. She never called me my twin's name. She always knew me by who I was personality-wise," says junior Sapphire McQueen.

The Marian choir also sang at the funeral, a familiar and comforting sound at Mass. Singing for this funeral is "very somber," says junior choir member Isaac Bradley. "We don't joke around... we can't breakdown."

"If you believe in me, you will have eternal life.

Cross Country

It's not for the faint of heart or feet.

This year's team may not have swept away the NIC conference, but it did boast a number of personal successes for the runners. Even Coach Neidhart achieved a great goal by participating in the Chicago Marathon. Of course, his team members and co-workers were impressed by the feat! Back at home, a number of runners made it up to Regionals with personal best records and inspiring performances.

Q&A

Q: What were some of your proudest moments during the season?

A: "Being able to run regionals together with teammates for the first time. One of the most inspiring things to see this season was watching a few first-year runners who would push through tears to finish some races with the whole team cheering them on the entire way."

1. Cheering on their teammates, Mary Rice, Alex Berta, and Charlotte Voor are decked out in lots of spirited attire. 2. In preparation for a run, the team creates a tunnel for competitors to run under as they rush out before a race. 3. Seniors, Hannah Majewski and Charlotte Voor, junior Karen Hunkler, and senior Emma Kearns start off at Sectionals 4. The girls sit down for a rest after a long day. Assistant Coach Davidson

"The players belief in themselves improved tremendously over the course of the season. It happens every year, but particularly on the defensive side this year the amount the kids grew their self-confidence was extraordinary. We were young, and had a lot of guys playing at the varsity level for the first time. It took a little while, and we hit some bumps in the road, but once they realized that they were capable as long as they executed, that's when we took off and played well as a defense."

Cheerleading

Football Season

With a Varsity team of eleven cheerleaders, this season was bound for greatness. After receiving multiple awards at cheer camp and having two All Americans, for Peyton Hoskins and Molly Roeder the limits seemed endless. Throughout the season, the team managed to pull off some of the most elite stunts. While working with eleven seniors can have its challenges, it made for a team full of diverse and creative ideas. The cheerleaders cheered the Knights on all the way to Semi- State concluding their football season. But what really matters most is "the legacy we leave behind" says Senior Jillian Walter.

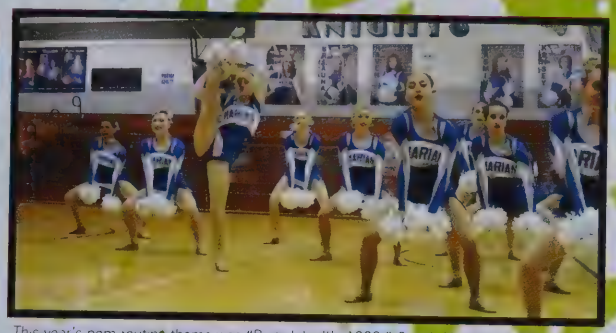
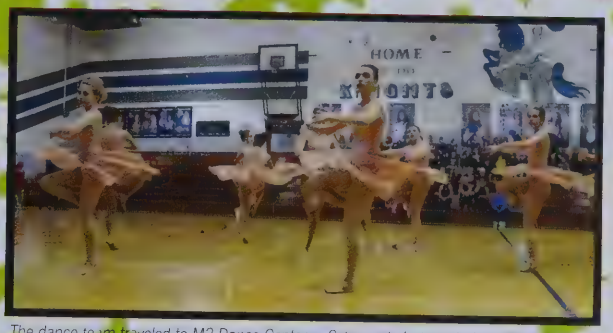
Dance Team



This year's pom routine theme was "Party Like It's 1999." Coach Heather McClain wanted to make the pom dance memorable for the 7 graduating seniors. When Coach Heather was asked what was the team's greatest accomplishment' she exclaimed', "Placing 3rd at the IHSDTA state finals in Jazz. We have a long season, with a lot of tough practices, so seeing their hard work pay off is the BEST feeling."



The dance team traveled to M2 Dance Center in Schererville Indiana to learn their Jazz routine. It took 2 days, September 9 and 10. Their routine was choreographed to the song "Youth" by Daughter. When Coach Hayley Fixler was asked about the Jazz routine, she said, "I think the jazz dance showed how hard the girls really worked. It's an emotional dance, and they put their heart and soul into every movement and part of the dance."

State Champions

Marian dance team not only advanced to state but placed 3rd with their Jazz routine. On March 10, 2018, the dance team traveled to New Castle High School in New Castle, Indiana. They spent the duration of the day watching other schools perform and performing themselves. Jasmine Bongrager's Mom commented, "After I saw them perform their Jazz routine, I felt confident that they would place at least 3rd." Once the announcer proclaimed them 3rd place winners, the whole team was elated and felt overjoyed by this past year's achievements.

Winter Kids Clinic

The dance team loved working with future dancers from the summer kids camp so much that they wanted to do it again! On Saturday, January 20, the dance team members woke up bright and early that morning to teach aspiring young dancers a few routines. The kids and dance team members then performed later that day during the boys' basketball game half time. It was a very special evening for the audience, the children's families, the dance team members, and the coaches. When freshman Veronica Campos was asked what the most memorable part was, she stated, "Being able to see how much they truly look up to you."

Learning New Tricks

The girls on the dance team don't just practice their competitive dance routines. They also practice pre-game routines, basketball and football halftime routines, technique, and dance tricks. Learning new tricks is not only important for choreography and enhancing the team overall skills but also to add flare. Plus, doing a trick here or there in a performance grabs the audience's attention. At practice on February 14, Amy Louderback, Veronica Campos, Anna Marshall, Kaylee McQueen, and Mia Hivick are trying out different types of lifts for their Jazz routine. "Getting to learn something new that you think you can't do and being able to perfect it," is what Mia likes best about learning new tricks.

MIGHTY MIKE

Senior Point Guard, Michael Hemmingway, finished his final season with the Knights on a high note. He was named IBCA District 1 Boys Player of the Week, earned First Team All NIC, and had been selected to play in the 2017 McDonald's Michiana All-Star Game. Coach Bob Berger, also celebrating yet another powerhouse season, said "This was achievable through his hard work and dedication in the off season. He is the ultimate team player and leader, always striving to make himself and his teammates better each and every day.

a senior's sweet SUCCESS

Senior Meghan Urbanski ended her last season with the Knights on top of the world. She was named a member of the 1000 Point Club joining the ranks of many noteworthy basketball Alumni. She also had the great honor to cut the net with her teammates after their Sectional win at John Glenn High School in February.

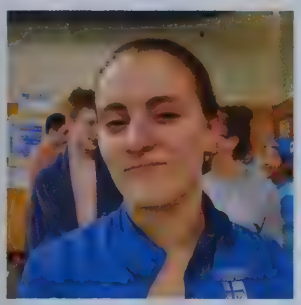
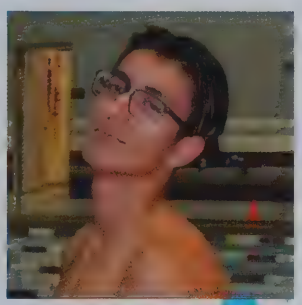
1. Kara Foldesi (12), Gabriella Gallegos (11) and Apisara Sunatra (11) blow off steam during the WHS Dive Invite in December. They performed 11 different dives each that day. Kara remembers: "Being at a diving invitational all day can be draining. Sometimes divers smack so hard that a white strip forms on our skin because the blood was pushed away by the impact. Then it bruises and turns into a purple strip." 2. Bill Singer (11) gets last minute stroke technique tips from Coach Niespo at the NPHS meet. 3. Alli Thornton (12) and Julianna Meyer (12) enjoy their last few minutes in the water at Senior Night. 4. Huddling and cuddling are necessary on cold pool decks amongst good friends like Mary Rice (11) and Bridget Vogel (11). 5. MHS swimmers are always up for a dance party. Due to a delay at NPHS, both teams were able to stay warm and keep stress low dancing on deck together. 6. Rue Desmarais (11) wouldn't want to admit it, but he can attribute much of his speed to ample rest on the wall during warm ups. 7. Coach Niespo left a practical joke for the Mishawaka swimmers after practice one morning. "That kind of stuff cracks me up! It doesn't hurt anything. I hope they like it!" she laughed sending the wet floor sign out on the water for them to find later.

Just keep Swimming...

Twins for the Win! Gabe and Jaden Oviedo tried diving for the first time their senior year. They both agreed that after their Parcour training, the idea of landing head first was pretty scary. Jaden said it was "against my nature," and Gabe thought it was "a really weird concept." Regardless, they thought it was awesome and wished they had found the sport sooner. As far as both brothers trying diving, Gabe laughed, "There's no uniqueness! It's conformity at the finest doing whatever your brother does!"



EMMA GRIESINGER
I believe my favorite memory was beating Mishawaka for the first time in all four years. We worked really hard to beat them and the work finally paid off! I also love how much of a family the swim team is. I am very thankful for being part of such a loving and accepting team for four years!



ERICK MACIEL-DIAZ
Seeing the team build from such small numbers to really something to see touches my heart. My favorite memory would either be singing on the bus with the team or eating the food after every meet.

ARIELLE MATTOON
My favorite memory is learning how to swim my freshman year and going through all of the strokes. Swim is family to me and through this family, I have learned so many new things about other people, the world around me, and myself.

GRETA MEHLBERG
I only joined swimming because some friends told me to. It ended up being a very rewarding choice, especially when we won on Senior Night against Mishawaka!

Above: Junior Filip Kosel's year ended on a high note breaking two school records at Sectional Prelims. He attributes his successful swims to lots of rest and a carton of Ben and Jerry's icecream before his swims.

Left: Having 5 am practices was "a reason to get up. It was fun to find little things to do, make people smile. That was, you could say, fun," recalls senior Manager Adam Evans. He even got in to swim a 50 free at one meet. "I felt a little like Rudy for a hot minute!"

PLAYERS CORNER

Jacob Bishop, Junior

In the ready position for anything that comes to him. What is the best thing about being a first basemen? Jacob says, "Stepping on the base to get them out."

Dylan Anderson, Sophomore

"It's a rush of adrenaline because you don't know if the ball is going to beat the runner. You have to be so precise to get the out," said Dylan considering what it takes to play the base

Pete Royeca, Sophomore

In wind up stance and ready to release with all of his heart and passion, this throw is called the circle change up. What is the best part of pitching? "Striking someone out!"

Going, Going, Gone!

Rounding The Bases They Go

The Varsity and Junior Varisity teams both had great runs and hits. Although it was not the best of years, it was great none the less. They put their heart and soul into the game. Chris Egan (above) waited patiently to hit the ball, and his time had finally come. What did it feel to smash the ball? "It was like nothing before," said Chris. Not to mention, he body form as he hits ball is amazing.

Francisco Huizar (left) rounds first base after hitting a high-flying ball into the outfield. How did it feel to run the bases after hitting the ball? "It was thrilling," said Francisco.

HEY!

BATTER, BATTER! SWING!

Over 70 years ago, the first women's softball team in town, the South Bend Blue Sox, started playing ball. Girls are still showing us all how to get it done on the diamond. Coach George got to end his career with Marian on a high note as well. The past many years have been great for the girls. We hope the future is even better!

saying farewell to

Coach Shawn Bays

Bio:
Coach Bays is a graduate of Marian High School and has 3 kids, one who attends Marian and plays lacrosse.

Hobbies:
Coach Bays loves to lift and workout. He has lost 85 pounds since last season. He also enjoys a brisk walk in the park on Sundays.

Q & A:
Q.What will you miss most about the Marian experience?
A. "I'll definitely miss the player interactions day in and out. It's the laughs and life lessons that you remember the most."
Q. Any advice for the seniors who are leaving as well?
A. "This may sound tough but the world owes you nothing and you will have to fight for everything you want all while working with others that are different than you. In my mind, Lacrosse is the ultimate team sport; it should have taught you life lessons that will make you successful."

Greta Melberg

(Pictured: on the left side) Greta has been playing lacrosse for 7 years and absolutely loves the sport. She has played for 3 different teams and 4 different coaches during her time here at Marian, and she wouldn't trade the memories she made for anything.

Milah Young

(Pictured: on the left side) Milah has been playing lacrosse for 5 years now and loves being a senior because it is fun to step out of your comfort zone. Milah plans to attend Hanover to play lacrosse and soccer as well as to major in biochemistry. She will miss the Bdubs runs after practice the most.

1. The Marian Defense, led by Paul Cline, takes the ball away from Northridge's best player
2. Skylar Bays toasts his defenseman with the shake and bake behind the goal
3. Tommy Gropp catches a break at midfield after an offensive possession.
4. Joe Macheca goes around the crease and through 3 defenseman on his way to a goal/geno.
5. Gabe Davey wins the clamp to secure the route of Northridge on Senior Knight.
6. Ian Burns takes a trip into the offensive zone with a beautiful one-man clear.
7. John Brach sets up his defenseman for a move so filthy you need to wash it.
8. Bransen Bonnel shows he is a good teammate by passing the ball for an assist on a man up.
9. Mason Talos celebrates a beautiful pass to Joe Macheca which turned into an assist after he scored.

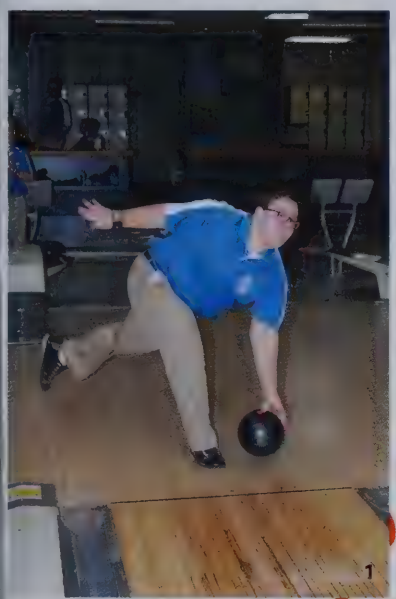
Boys Wrestling

Small but mighty, the wrestling team is composed of Freshman Tommy Burke and Senior Alex Garcia. One benefit: lots of focused coaching all season long!

Boys Rugby

The team is coached by Mr. Daher and composed of players from many different schools in the area. Marian players share the field year after year to make a team the whole community can be proud of every spring.



1. Seth Becker was really proud of his season because "I went to Sectionals and showed that Marian was still in it!" Practicing consistency is a major part of bowling. "We'd play using only the 7 and 10 pins," the 2 corner pins for accuracy. 2. Jacob Cramer wasn't really too serious since it was his first year. In regards to his form, his teammates all responded, "KaKAWWW!" Jacob said, "Yeah, it's not really a form. I was just trying to throw the ball and not fall over." Next year, he's aiming for more technique. 3. Juan Wasoski's two-handed roll is "pretty wicked!" He models it off of the world's best bowler Jason Belmonte who uses the similar form. "Nobody else wants me to do it but it's fun and I like it." 4. Kneeling: Juan Wasoski, Standing: Jacob Cramer, Seth Becker, Dylan Anderson, Ethan Schramm, Spenser Forsland, Back: Coaches Jon Backstrom and David Anderson 5. Freshmen Spencer Forsland was named All Conference Sectional Team in his first season. He regularly played Lead Off, the first to bowl. "It was very unexpected. That's for sure!" Spencer remembers. His teammates admired his consistency.

In its inaugural year, the Marian Bowling Team, composed solely of freshmen and sophomores, rocked the lanes making it all the way to Regionals. Sophomore Dylan Anderson's experience was a family affair with his dad, David Anderson, coaching the team. "It was alright," Dylan recalled, "We've always bowled together." Freshmen Seth Becker, all about developing traditions for this fledgling team, was excited for their new cheer whenever someone would get a strike: "You'd get a strike and yell 'Onward!' and everyone would yell 'Knights!' together."

Rolling, Rolling, Rolling...

These underclassmen are no underdogs!

Knights Make a Racket

Knights Secure NIC South Title

The Knights showed great improvement during their season that saw them win the NIC South title. Led by head coach, Daniel Tryniecki, for the last three years, the boys rounded out the season with a 8-3 record in conference play, good enough to win the South. Their overall record came out to be 13-6 again, showing a strong season.

Coach Daniel Tryniecki takes a break from teaching his English students about nuance to coach the Knights tennis team. Reflecting on the past season coach, Coach Tryniecki stated, "We owed our success this season to great leadership from our seniors as well as a year-round commitment to the sport from several underclassmen."

Action shots during the season show the camaraderie between guys. Cameron Rafinski, Michael Gray, and Dominik Rafinski showed great spirit in their final and spectacular year together. As doubles partners, D. Rafinski and Gray showed great improvement in their skills and leadership. In fact, Cameron Rafinski was undefeated in singles for the whole month of August.

2. Junior Emma DiTommaso effortlessly returns a strong serve.
3. Sophomore Bridget Meyers saves a particularly fierce ball from zipping past her.
4. Senior Josephina Debicki takes position to deliver a powerful serve.
5. Freshman Anika Veldman reaches for the tennis ball, which has strayed just within her grasp.
6. With big smiles, the seniors celebrate their last Marian tennis season at Senior Kight. They had many great memories over the course of a couple months and they had fun together both on and off the court. "My favorite memories are of us singing along to Justin Beiber songs while taking the bus to away matches," Abigail Rokop reminisced.

Girl's Tennis

The girl's tennis team aces the season. The Lady Knights completed the season with a 7-7 record, tied for third place in the South NIC, and, most spectacularly, placed second at the Concord Invitational.

CLASS OF 2018

CONGRATULATIONS SENIORS!

It's been a long road, and we finally made it! All of the hard work has come to an end, but we're still a work in progress. Senior Appreciation Breakfast was a great way to wrap up the year and share memories over doughnuts and fruit salad. The parents set up a photo booth with props and a candy buffet celebrating our "Sweet Success." We compared our senior selves to our freshmen yearbook photos. We checked out all the pennants denoting our college acceptances.

Now, we get the cap and gown, the Senior Exemptions, Baccalaureate, Graduation. Then it's off to college, the work force, the Air Force (start chanting "RJ DECKER!"), or where ever it is we're going. We are going places never-the-less.

We've all heard that "the hassle is worth the tassle." and now we want to see it all play out. We're going to be engineers, researchers, educators, pilots, artists, and jobs we haven't even thought of yet. The whole God-given world is out there for us to own. We're going to change the world because even it is a

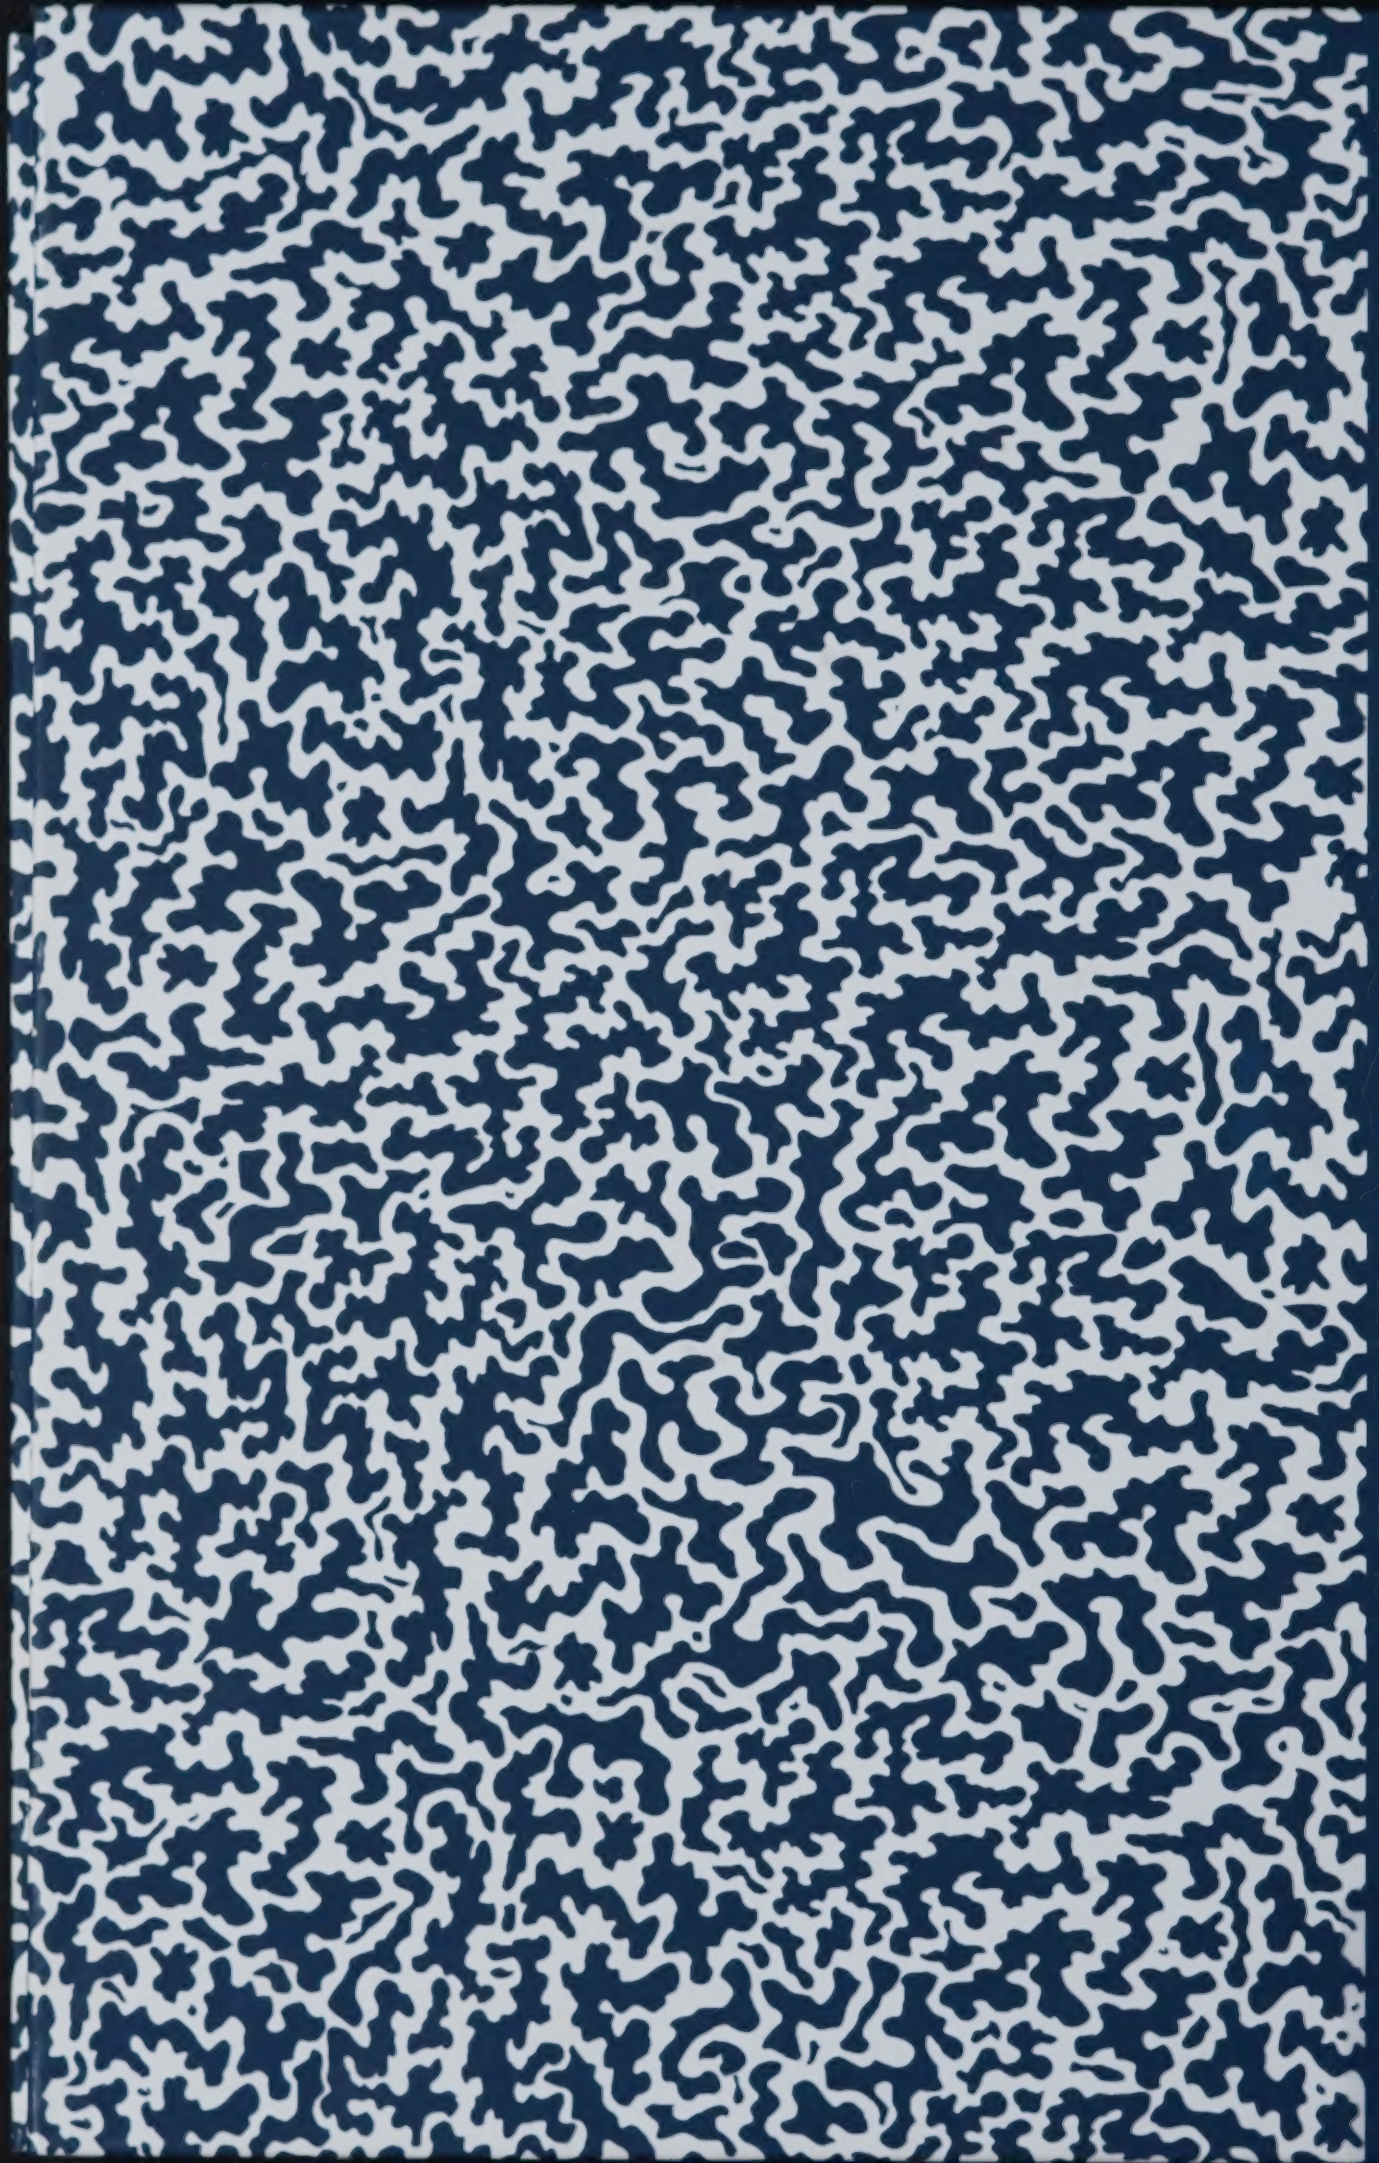
Colophon

The Madrigal Volume 51 was produced by the yearbook staff at Marian High School advised by Micah Niespodziany, and was printed by Herff Jones, Inc. in Kansas City, KS. The account was serviced by representative Betty Samples and customer service adviser Lisa Merino. All text used was in Handscript Print, Handschrift Cursive, and the News Gothic family. The Madrigal was produced using Herff Jones eDesign. Photos were taken with a Canon Powershot camera and cellphone cameras. Professional portraits were provided by Lifetouch and Prestige Portraits. Book price is included in tuition. Additional books may be purchased for $55.

Special thanks to all staff members 2nd semester for finishing this book: David Bautista-Amaro, Jasmine Bontrager, Brendan Bruneel, Alyssa Chaple, Gabriella Christie, Mckenzie Collins, Arianna Dowdy, Alex Garcia, Anna Larson, Joe Macheca, & Brock Thornburg.


And to 1st semester for getting the project under way: Maria Gropp, Peyton Haskins, Kyla King, Ayla Krakowski, Jon Magallon, Christian Manzuk, Stephanie Navarrete, Kaleb Peen, O'Ryan Rucker, Michaln Schafer, Conner Shreve, Ben Ujdak, Brock Van Nevel, & Brianna Wasoski.
